Handicapping seminar to benefit Klein center

Business First of Louisville

This weekend, the Louisville Thoroughbred Club will offer a handicapping seminar to help horseracing fans pick winners at the track.

The fee is $49, with all proceeds benefiting the Klein Family Learning Center, which provides English-as-a-second-language and other enrichment and self-help courses for members of the Hispanic community working on Churchill Downs' backside.

The seminar will cover how to: pick winners, avoid common handicapping errors, manage money at the track and read horses' pre-race signals.

Manny Cadima, president of The Louisville Thoroughbred Club, will lead the program. He will be joined by trainer Dale Romans and John Asher, vice president of communications for Churchill Downs.

The seminar includes two class sessions, both held on Churchill's backside, at the Klein center. The sessions are Saturday and Sunday, June 9 and 10, from 8 to 11:45 a.m.
